Local named 2009 corporate achiever by MS foundation

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Connecticut Chapter has named Rick Simione, of Southington, a business development manager for Ford Motor Credit Company, a 2009 MS Corporate Achiever – one of only 20 business leaders recognized.

“My sister has MS and that’s the reason why my entire family takes part in Connecticut Chapter events,” said Simione. “My father, Richard, is now the chairperson of the board of trustees. It’s just something where I want to help out by doing whatever I can.”

Simione has been with the Ford Motor Credit Company for nine years. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in marketing from Quinnipiac University in Hamden in 1990.

Multiple sclerosis is a potentially debilitating disease affecting the central nervous system. Symptoms can include, among other things, numbness in the limbs, difficulties with vision and speech, stiffness and, in some more severe cases, total paralysis. The progress, severity and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot be predicted. The cause is unknown and, as a result, there currently is no cure.

“Mr. Simione has long been a supporter of the Connecticut Chapter and we appreciate the time and effort he has devoted to our cause,” said Connecticut Chapter president Lisa Gerrol. “We are honored to have his support for the MS Corporate Achievers program as we look to further educate the public on multiple sclerosis and address the challenges of every person affected by this disease.”

Established by the Connecticut Chapter in 2000, MS Corporate Achievers is a recognition program honoring some of Connecticut’s most influential leaders while at the same time raising critically needed funds to ensure ongoing scientific research and the continuation of vital programs and services offered by the chapter to Connecticut residents diagnosed with MS.

Honorees are nominated by their peers and selected by an advisory council board for making outstanding contributions to business, civic and cultural enrichment.
